LOCAL FINANCES.Trade Picking Up—The Bullion Output—Commercial Miscellaneous.

The approach of the holidays is having an enlivening effect upon trade, and the merchants' faces are beginning to relax into their old smiles once more. It is too soon yet to expect the yearly boom that always attends Christmas and New Year's in Salt Lake, but before the present week is out we may look for the rush, bustle and go that the holidays always bring. The country business outlook also seems more encouraging than at the time of THE HERALD's last review, and an inquiry at Z. C. M. I. and some of our other principal stores showed that out of town accounts were coming in extremely well, thus far in the month. This of course, is attributable to the fact that it is pay time in all the mining camps and at the smelters and mills; either immediately before the 15th, or on that date, the Stormont, Crescent, Ontario, Horn Silver, Lead Mine, Old Telegraph, the Morgan, Mingo, Horn Silver and Germania Smelters, and both Mackintosh and Conklin's samples pay off their hands in amounts varying from $3,000 to $15,000 each; all this goes into the hands of the miners, and generally from them to the country dealers; the farmers of course reap but little of this benefit, and they can hope for but little until a rise in the grain market, or the patching up of the differences between the railroads. The bullion and ore output continues steadily and evenly at its usual figure of about $150,000 per week. The Germania are still reporting no shipments, and we understand that their product is being held for refining and the manufacture of lead pipe. Following is THE HERALD's weekly statement of the bullion and ore received at the banks named below for the seven days ending Saturday, December 15th.

LOCAL NOTES.

A lot of Tiewaukee ore was sold during the past week for $3,100.

The price of silver and lead is down, with a slightly drooping tendency.

The Old Concentrating Works in Butte field canyon owned by the Revere Company will probably be put up for sale very shortly.

The Ontario has not missed a day during the past week in making shipments of bullion; the total was 28 bars at an average of $1,200 each bar.

The Eureka Hill has made one of their immense shipments during the past week; the lot went to the eastern market and brought $19,000.

Jennings Brothers lately received a car load of lead on which the freight was $50. Before the railroad pleasantness the charges would have been $287.

The output of bullion at the Hanauer smelter continues as evenly and steadily as a pulsation; the total amount of bullion run out for the week was $36,595.

The latest thing in bank drafts is seen in the new ones just issued by the bank of Mr. J. W. Guthrie in Corinne; the usual blanks for signature, date and figures are in their places, but in a prominent corner there smiles in your face a steel engraving image of the belle of Corinne with the name "Mary Elizabeth Guthrie," printed underneath it. The hope of seeing the living, breathing original of that vignette will draw more custom to the Bank than any other means of advertising obtainable in Box Elder county.

The great Philadelphia firm of Laird, Scholer and Mitchell, celebrated for their exclusive manufacture of ladies' fine shoes, lately sent out the compliments of the season to Spencer & Kimball in the shape of an immense illuminated show card painted on glass, and bearing the firm name of the popular young boot and shoe house. Spencer & Kimball have made some mammoth preparations for the holidays, but with this work of art in their window they stand in need of no other display to attract trade.
